

WHAT IT COSTS YOU NOW

The complaints are the real cost

Waste on a common area does not generate a work order until somebody steps in it. By then it is a complaint, a board email, and a maintenance call — three people's time for something a scheduled visit prevents.

Pet stations that are actually stocked

Bags run out on the weekend. We check and refill on every visit and flag a station that needs replacing.

Turf you are not reseeding

Concentrated waste burns grass. Landscaping bills and scooping bills come out of the same budget.

One invoice, one contact

Monthly, itemised, with the visit log attached.

WHAT WE COVER

Grounds, runs and stations

Common greens and dog runs

Walked on a set schedule and cleared, not spot-checked.

Pet waste stations

Bags restocked, bins emptied, and the surround kept clean.

Entrances and walkways

The parts prospective residents see on the tour.

Everything hauled off site

It does not go into your dumpster, where it becomes your smell and your problem.

A visit log you can forward

Dated, so a board member asking “when were they last here” gets an answer, not a shrug.

HOW IT IS PRICED

By the property, not a list

Commercial and HOA work is quoted individually.

Three things set the number:

Property size

The area actually walked, not the acreage on the deed.

Visit frequency

From twice weekly on dense communities down to monthly.

Number of pet stations

Servicing and restocking is part of the visit, not an extra line.

The walkthrough is free and the quote is written. Nothing starts until you have both.

WHO YOU ARE HIRING

Insured, and dog people

Max's Poo Crew is the yard-care arm of Max's K9 Club — training, boarding and daycare. The crew is around dogs every day, which matters on a property where residents are walking theirs.

Insured and background-checked

Certificates available before the first visit.

Consistent crew

The same people, so they learn the property.
