DOG WASTE REMOVAL · ST. LOUIS & ST. CHARLES COUNTY

WHY IT MATTERS

It's not just an eyesore.

A single gram of dog waste carries millions of bacteria, and the parasites in it outlast the mess by months.

Roundworm

Eggs survive in soil for years and are the most common way a treated dog gets reinfected in its own yard.

Hookworm

Larvae move through soil and enter through skin — bare feet and knees on the lawn.

Giardia

Cysts stay viable in cool, damp ground long after the waste itself is gone.

Runoff

Rain carries what is left into the storm drain, and from there into the creek.

We walk the whole yard every visit and haul everything off your property — it never goes into your own bin to sit until collection day.
